-the overall color scheme and image selection looks great. Maybe creating some of them smaller or different frame shapes can be interesting to explore.

-I prefer the website to have more green shades than browner shades from the color palette we chose. Since the images will already be brown, like capybara colors.

-There should be a button/ logo that can navigate to the homepage and the very top of the page.

-The text size should be larger since some texts have image backgrounds that might be harder to read. If the text is white, it should have a larger font size.
